A HISTORY OF THE CANADAY FAMILY

1. The Canaday Family are of Scotch-Irish descent. They emigrated from Scotland into Holland and Germany and from there came to America and landed in Virginia. It is told that two of the brothers quarreled as they were making the voyage to Virginia and one of them resolved to change the spelling of his name and so began it with a "K" instead of a "C", which accounts for the Kennedys in this country.

After spending some time in Virginia they emigrated to North Carolina, in Guilford County, of 680 sq. mill, with Greensboro as the County Seat. Many joined them from Pennsylvania and New England States. There seemed to be a great company of Quakers who were trying to find a location to their liking. They founded the New Garden Boarding School, which was later changed to Guilford College. Ballard's Soap Yard and Beard's Hatter Shop are mentioned as flourishing enterprises and Dobson's Croos Roads as a location probably near Beard's Hatter Shop. According to the record of Deep River Quaker Monthly Meeting, Beard went to Ohio in the 1811 migration.

A fire in the Guilford College in 1885 burned many of the Quaker records, but some were saved.

Prof. E. F. Canaday, a great grandson, who is a teacher of mathematics in Meridith College, Raleigh, North Carolina, has investigated some of these records and found that Guilford Co., N. C. was settled largely by Quakers but that slavery disputes caused many to move to other localities.

One record says that 1000 Quaker families went from Guilford Co., N.C. to Richmond, Indiana. In 1844 a family of Quakers named Canaday moved from Walnut Ridge, Va. to Rush Co., Ind. Many other groups went to Illinois, Iowa and Missouri. On page 283 of Week's "Quaker and Slavery" references are made to Guilford Co., N.C. incidents.

In the Library of the State Historical Commission at Raleigh, N.C. is the original bond of marriage of the earliest ancestor of our family that we have been able to find any record of so far. It is the marriage bond of Charles Canaday and Sarah Russell, on April 21, 1794, a copy of which is made here as it is copied by E. F. Canaday in its original form, word for word, errors and all.

In the Book of Abstracts of North Carolina Wills, Sarah Russell is named as daughter of Habakkuk Russell - Will Record 1754. The sons were David and Abraham. The daughters were Rebeckah, Sarah, Abigail and Sophia. The name of Habakkuk Russell's wife was Ann Russell. Our first ancestor of whom we have found authentic hosterical records is

1. Charles Canaday, who was born near Beard's Hatter Shop in Guilford Co., N.C. April 18, 1770 and must have been a namesake of his father (Charles Canaday) for he writes his name Charles Canaday, Junr. in the marriage bond as copied above. He grew up on the farm and learned the cooper's trade which he followed in his early life along with his farming.

2. He married Sarah Russell, daughter of Habakkuk and Ann Russell in Guilford Co., N.C. on April 24, 1794, under a bond of 500 pounds and proper witnesses. Sometime after their marriage they moved to East Tenn., near Knoxville, where he must have been very successful for he seemed to acquire a modest fortune for those times in farmland and stock. He had a family of ten children, 9 of whom were born around Knoxville, Tenn. While living here, Davy Crockett, a very eccentric man of pioneer fame, lived with him for several years. In April, 1815, the family decided to move to Indiana and located on the site now known as Richmond, Ind., and purchased a quarter section of land for $1000. according to the deed here copied. "John Beck and wife Sarah to Charles Canaday, warranty deed executed and acknowledged, Jan. 3, 1818, Recorded Apr. 7, 1818 in Deed Record A page 488, Wayne Co., Ind. Beginning at the N.W. 1/4 sec. 22 of Tp. number 16 north of the Base Line in range thirteen East of the second principal meridian line of lands directed to be sold at Cincinnati, O. by act of Congress providing for the sale of Lands northwest of the river Ohio and above the mouth of the Kentucky River.

This base line lies in Orange County, Ind. and the "second principal meridian" is about 3 miles west of Meridian Street, in Indianapolis.

He lived on this farm about 33 years and his children grew up and all of them married except one. Their children were, William, Margaret, Mary, who was born Feb. 6, 1800, died May 26, 1874, Phoebe, Sarah, Nathan, Charity, Matilda, Charles C. and Matilda Canaday. The father, Charles Canaday, made a will in Feb. 15, 1851 giving all his children an equal share in his estate. Copy of the Will of Charles Canaday follows:

Estate of Charles Cannady. Will Record, Page 144 of Wayne Co., Ind. Probated June 4th, 1851.

I, Charles Cannaday, of the County of Wayne and State of Indiana, being of sound mind and remembering that all are once to die, therefore make and ordain this my last will and testament in manner and form as follows to wit:

Item 1st. It is my will and desire that all of my just debts and funeral expenses be first paid out of my estate by my executors hereinafter named.

Item 2nd. I give and bequeath to my children the residue of my estate of every name and nature and personal moneys and effects to be equally divided amongst them to have and share alike viz:- To the heirs of William Cannaday (deceased) one tenth, to Nathan Cannaday one tenth, to Margaret Harvey one tenth, to Mary Cannaday one tenth, to Phebe Hill one tenth, to the heirs of Sarah Woodward (deceased) one tenth, to the heirs of Charity Millikan (deceased) one tenth, and to Matilda Harvey one tenth.

And finally and lastly, I constitute, ordain and appoint my son, Nathan Cannaday, and my son-in-law William Millikan, my executors to execute this my last will and testament, revoking all others by me heretofore made ratifying and confirming the same in testimony, whereof I have hereunto set my hand this 15th day of the 2nd month, 1851.

Charles Cannaday.

Attested by Jeremiah Griffin.

Charles Cannaday died between Feb. 15 and June 4, 1851 as dates in the will indicate.

3. William Cannaday was born near Knoxville, Tenn. Apr. 14,1874, soon after his parents had arrived from North Carolina. He spent all his boyhood days here, helping his parents on the farm and gaining all the education his opportunities would allow. He married Hannah Millikan November 4, 1814, and the next year he and all his father's family moved to Wayne County, Ind. and lived a while with his father on a farm near Richmond, Ind. Soon, however he moved to Henry Co., Ind. near Hillsboro, Ind. where he bought a farm of 160 acres covered with timber. They began clearing a place for a home and a garden patch. Then he built a sawmill of the vertical sash style. This required a great deal of labor and the mill work was very dangerous to life and limb, as the tools and machines were crude in those days. He had his limbs broken several times by logs rolling on him. In sawing one had to get down in a pit and throw out the sawdust by hand as elevators were not thought of in those days. By unflagging industry and patient endurance and strict economy, they started a home and succeeded. He was much interested in a good community by encouraging education and religious gatherings. They were members of the Hillsboro Christian Church. He died in June 17, 1847, leaving a wife and ten children who continued the home till most of the children were married.

4. Hannah Cannaday, his wife, was born Aug. 28, 1796, near Knoxville, Tenn. After she broke up housekeeping she lived with her daughter, Polly Koons, for about a year, when she went to Hamilton Co. where she made her home with her son, Colvin A. Cannaday, for the rest of her life. When nice summer weather began she would visit her children and Bro. in Henry and Delaware Counties. She had a house to herself in one part of the yard. Daniel and William Wade lived with her until they were married, then Charles and George Cannaday lived with her until her death. She walked to the main house, about 50 feet away, for her meals except on bad days, when they were taken to her. She employed her time in carding wool and spinning it into thread which she wove into towels and sheets and knit the yarn into stockings and comforts, etc. She always wanted to be busy and liked to feed and water the stock and often inquired if they had been attended to. Her spare time was used in visiting near neighbors, reading the Bible, the Christian Standard and the New Castle Currier.

Their children were Samuel S., Charles, Eleanor, Sarah, Jane, Polly, Calvin Russell, Almeda, Michael and George Cannaday.

She died of old age, passing away without much suffering. The following biography was read by the Minister.

HANNAH CANNADY

Was born in East Tennessee, August 28, 1796. Died August 1st, 1881, aged 84 years, 11 months and 3 days. Her maiden name was Millikan. She was married to William Cannady in 1814 and in 1815 they moved to Wayne County, Indiana, and settled where the city of Richmond is now built, and has since resided in this State. For many years they lived near Hillsboro, Henry County, but for several years since the death of her husband, she has made her home with her son, Calvin R., in Hamilton County, Indiana, where she peacefully and triumphantly closed her earthly pilgrimage.

She was the mother of ten children, four of whom preceded her to the better home. She also had the joy of seeing eight of her children members of the church. On the 18th of July, 1841, she made a public profession of her faith in Christ and was baptized by Elder Evans, and united with the Christian Church at Hillsboro, where she held membership at the time of her death. Services by the writer were held at the church at Hillsboro on the 2nd of August, after which her remains were laid to rest beside her husband to await the general resurrection. Her life was a success, her death triumphant and the reward sure.

Later he worked in a Cabinet Shop in Hillsboro with his brother, Samuel S. Cannaday, making caskets and furniture. He also took charge of a drygoods store for some time during the sickness of the proprietor. He acquired ability for business. He married Nancy Irena Walker in March, 1863, in the Bethel Christian Church and Elder Ben Franklin pronounced the ceremony. She was born in North Carolina October 19, 1835 and with her parents, Alvus and Lovey Walker, moved to Indiana south of Newcastle where they entered a farm which she saw cleared of timber and made ready for cultivation. She early became interested in her educational needs and took advantage of such opportunity as the community had instituted. She applied herself with such diligence that she soon became a good penman and well qualified in the subjects then taught. She began teaching in the country schools along with her brother Wm. F. She was a good horseback rider and keep her side-saddle many years and was proud of her equestrian feats, with her many friends. She married Dr. William Basey of Spiceland, Ind. Not long after their marriage he took sick and died. They had a daughter to die in its infancy. About this time her father died and she lived with her mother on the farm until March 1863, when she married Calvin R. Cannaday. After their marriage they bought a farm of eighty acres in Hamilton Co., Ind., near Fortville, Ind. About twenty acres was cleared and he cleared 40 A more and purchased more land until he acquired 220 acres and built a big barn and other buildings for cattle,sheep and hogs. They took his sister Almeda Wade's two boys to raise and they, with his own boys, as they grew up, took care of the farming. As he was a good carpenter there was a great demand to build houses and barns for many miles around and he often had eight or ten hands under him at this work. One could stand in the dooryard at home and count thirteen houses and barns he had builded. The elder Wade boy, Daniel, was taken from the farm work and learned the carpenter trade and became boss over part of the hands. In those days most of the frame work was hewn out of the trees in the woods and much of the lumber had to be dressed by hand and clap-boards rived from oak logs cut the proper length, and much lumber tongued and grooved. He was kept very busy at this but decided to give up this arduous work and sold part of his tools to his workmen and took up the sale of machinery for farming as;mowers, reapers, binders, wheat drills, cultivators, disk-harrows,self-opening gates, etc. and often had group deliveries. On one occasion 30 farmers came to Fortville with wagons and horses for the car loads of harvesters sold to them and made a parade in the streets and had free dinner and horse feeds and the same kind of delivery was made at Noblesville. He had partnership hardware stores in Noblesville and Fortville in his later years. He often served in official capacities as administrator, road viewer, petit and grand juror and treasurer of organizations. He early joined the Masonic Lodge and was insured in the Masonic Mutual Benefit Association. He became a member of the Christian Church early in life and was always much interested in church work and was instrumental in building the Clarksville Christian Church in Hamilton Co., Ind., of which he was treasurer many years. The Cynthianne Christian Church would hardly have been built had he not lent his energy to it, and when it was dedicated he picked his seat, which was always reserved for him. He died Aug. 11,1893 and his funeral was preached in this last church of his oversight and he was laid to rest in the German Baptist Cemetery east of Noblesville.

337 Mrs. Nancy Irena Cannaday rented the farm to her son George W. Cannaday and she bought a house in Fortville,Ind. and with her unmarried children began housekeeping there. Two years later the farm was voluntarily divided by the children each quitclaiming to the other children without an administrator appointment. After the children were all married the mother sold her property and lived among her children, especially her daughter Prhonia Roudebush,where she was living at the time of her death, Sept. 24, 1916.

They were very loyal to and interested in their children and gave them the best opportunity they could afford to get an education, first requiring punctual attendance throughout the term of school and expected good deportment and almost perfect application, never keeping anyone from school no matter how much needed in the home work, but hired adult hands took their place. They even moved to Spiceland, Ind. for higher education in the Academy, but were compelled to return to the farm on account of financial reverses in the failure of his partner in a grocery store and securities failing. The education acquired gave each one the ability to make good for each one taught school except one, who chose other lines of work. Their children were Charles M. Sophronia Jane, George W.,Robert Colfax, William Benton, and Emma Florence Cannaday.

He continued teaching and working on the farm through the summer for seven years when his father died. It was arranged for his brother George to care for the farm and his mother's family bought a house and moved to Fortville, Ind. He lived with the family and began teaching in the country schools in Hancock County. He was elected to an office on the town board and was made its president. Notes:

Jacob Hill and Phoebe Cannaday were married at the West Grove meeting house in Wayne Co., Ind. according to the custom of performing marriage ceremonies by the Friends of those days.

The Hills were natives of Carolina and the Cannadays came from Tennessee. Soon after their marriage, they came to Henry County, Ind. and settled near what is now known as Messick, where they spent the remainder of their lives.

This was then an almost unbroken forest and full of wild animals The land which they entered was deeded to them by the Government of the United States. The wife on one occasion was compelled to remain in the woods all night, having been called to the bedside of a sick neighbor. She was belated in her return home, and soon darkness overtook her and as she could no longer see the "blazes" on the tree, she was soon lost in her way. Hearing the wolves howling, she clasped her babe close to her breast, and sat down to wait for the dawn of the day, which when coming, brought the sound of a bell to her. She went in the direction of the tinkling of the bell, and soon found an old gray mare which was owned by a neighbor. Driving the animal along she soon met its owner who directed her to the path which led to her home. Politically, Jacob Hill was a Republican. Religiously, he was a member of the Society of Friends,which met at Flat Rock, one mile south of Messick. He rarely ever missed a meeting of the church. In stature he was small, complexion dark. They were married November 14,1833 and settled in the northeast part of Hamilton Co.,Ind.,where they entered land getting their deed direct from the government signed by the president of the United States - Andrew Jackson.

They were very active and prosperous and soon made improvements that were a credit to the community. They erected as their final home a beautiful two story brick house of good dimensions for the housing of their family. The clay for the making of the brick was procured on the farm near where the house was builded. A large barn and out buildings adequate for the storage of the farm products were erected which made his farming endeavors successful.

They were very religious and exacting in moral and spiritual life and carried out the principles of the Friends Religious Body in a conscientious manner. They would meet with neighbors and friends of like sentiment or persuasion and sit an hour in silent meditation and worship of their Creator and Savior. A church house was built just west of the homestead where they worshiped for many years,but in their later life the rising generation began to exercise in oral expression of song,prayer,reading and exhortation which they could not approve, so they with members of like mind held services in their sitting room at home.

In the latter days of his life,John Harvey was returning from the State Fair in company with some of his family and friends was walking along the railroad track when he caught his foot on a sliver of a rail causing him to fall striking his knee on the rail which broke his knee cap and resulted in a stiff joint and necessitated the use of a cane for several years. One day when he was opening his barn lot gate to let his large drove of horses and colts to the water trough some of them ran over him and broke loose the stiff joint but otherwise not hurting him very much. This accident let him have free use of his limb the rest of his days.

He was very hard of hearing during most of his life and he learned to read his conversers speech by the movement of their lips but men must be clean shaven. Stock Producers

1307. Charles C. Canaday was the youngest son of Charles and Sarah Russell Canaday, and was born Oct. 28, 1814 near Knoxville, Tenn., about 20 years after his parents moved from Guilford Co., North Carolina. Here he grew up and helped his father in his Cooperage work and on the farm. His schooling was somewhat meager as he said the only spelling book he had was a dictionary; yet he learned to write quite well and took advantage of what opportunity he had and became a good business man. Later he studied veternary which helped him to take care of the herds of stock he had acquired, among which were many fine horses. He also studied medicine but did not profess to be a physician. His daughter Mary Ann Canaday Gray tells of some of the pranks he performed in his early life: "My grandfather being afraid of dogs, was one day working at this cooper trade and father told Matilda his youngest sister to crawl under the work bench and grab grandfather by the leg and growl like a dog, and she did, and grandfather yelled 'Get out!' and kicked at the dog at he supposed and skinned his shin, and Aunt Matilda laughed, and grand father being a Quaker said, 'Charles, where art thou?' Father said he knew what to expect. Another time he and Matilda made it up to pull the gourd in two that they had at the pump to drink out of, so they would get a glass to drink out of - it being the first set of glasses they ever had - and just as they had accomplished the destruction of the gourd, grandfather came around the corner of the house, so father was in bad again; he being about three years the oldest, the mischief was laid on him, and justly, I suppose. Boyd will be boys."

Charles C. Canaday inherited a birthright in the Quaker Church, but certain religious tenets must be kept, among which was a prohibition from marrying any one outside the church, but he became acquainted with Miss Jane Frazier, daughter of William and Polly Frazier, and their affection ripenod into love which resulted in their marriage March 29, 1838. She was born Oct. 29, 1823, in Tennessee. So he lost his birthright in the Quaker Church and they became members of the New Light Church.

He bought a farm of 240 acres in Henry Co., Ind. about eight miles north of Newcastle. It was covered with big timber, but he was strong and sturdy and weighed about 300 pounds and very active and he soon had several acres cleared and a log house erected for a home. He was a good hand in caring for stock and raised many fine horses and other stock.

I lived with him on the farm until I was 19 years old when I took up the study of telegraphy, and during that year entered the service of the Union Pacific Railroad Company as Telegraph Operator, and during the next twelve years I worked at Various stations on the Kansas Division of that line.

"I resigned in 1916 and became Assistant Auditor of the Riverside Light and Power Company, a two million dollar corporation of Abilene Kans. and served them for two years, resigning to accept a better position with the Abilene Flour Mills Company of Abilene Kans. which position I held for four years.

"I appreciate very much that I was very successful during the years spent with the Abilene Flour Mills Company, so much so that I decided to build a new home and move to Topeka Kans. "I was initiated into the Masonic Lodge in 1910, and received my 32° at Saline Kansas in 1913.

"Since 1916 I have been affiliated with the International Bible Students Association whose headquarters are located at Brooklyn, N.Y.

"At the present time I am Secretary of the General Products Corporation of Kansas City Missouri, engaged in selling 'SIPHONMIX' Automatic Soda Fountains.

Some failed to respond to the request for information and some others could not be reached without considerable expense and time which were limited.

We wish to thank the many zealous and faithful workers who made possible the editing and compiling of this Family History. No doubt some errors will be found for members of the same family have sent in conflicting data which had to be verified before useing, and other causes my be given but we think the % will be very small among about 1,600 names given in the history.

This Supplement is the result of many days of earnest effort and patience of Ward M. Canaday in searching for old records and history of the Cannaday or Canaday or Cannady or Canady or Canedy as the name is found in different records.

He has spent much time in the Home-lands of North Carolina and Tennessee of our Fore-fathers in his tireless effort to restore to us the History of our Fathers.

He received much assistance from Miss Laura D. Worth, Custodian of the Vault of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends at Guilford College, N. C. He expects to continue this search as opportunity permits. We give heartiest thanks.

It appears from the New Garden, Roan Co., North Carolina Record of meetings that Charles Cannaday who died on or before 1764 is the oldest Fore-father we have yet been able to find any record. N. B. We copy spelling as found in the Records.
